CASTLE IN AN ALLEY.

Washington Doctor's Executors Find His Home Fortified With Steel.

The story of Washington's most eccentric millionaire, the late Dr. Leroy M. Taylor, who for three years made his home in a fortified castle in the heart of an alley in the northwest section, recently became public by reason of the settlement of his estate, says a special dispatch to the New York Times.

Owning more than 120 houses, Dr. Taylor chose to make his home during the latter years of his life next door to a stable in a narrow court inhabited by negroes. The executors found it the most remarkable place of residence in the capital. Two stories high, solidly built as a fortress with heavy sheet iron doors and windows, iron bars at every aperture and steel wire netting clamped upon the inside of each opening, the weird habitation is surrounded by shanties like a chateau frowning upon a peasant village.

Inside are luxuriously furnished apartments, costly furniture, and one of the most valuable libraries in Washington, trophies of the chase, weapons and curios from the orient, rare engravings and etchings, rugs and draperies from India and whimsical collections from the four corners of the world.

TOWN TOPICS.

Chicago's daily drink bill is $200,000. In New York the trade of horse-shoeing is almost monopolized by Irishmen.

Of the large cities New York covers 200,218 acres, Chicago 122,008 acres, Philadelphia 82,003 acres, Boston 27,251 acres, St. Louis 39,277 acres, Cleveland 24,222 acres and Cincinnati 26,880.

By a clerical error on the part of the auditor the taxable property of San Jose, Cal., was reported over $1,000,000 in excess of the true figure. The tax levy was based on the erroneous figure, and now there is going to be a shortage in all the funds.

Only An Empty Grave

Many a devoted family marks the grave of their dear departed with an expensive monument and frequently covers it with flowers, not thinking that the remains of that loved one is not there. Many a body so carefully and tenderly laid away has reached the dissecting table before the sod has been placed upon the grave. Many others have been devoured by ground hogs or other vermin so common in graveyards. Why run any chances with your dead?

THE BAKER

will give absolute protection from the vicious "ghoul" and all the hungry vermin. It will also keep the casket perfectly dry in any watery grave.

READ ALL THIS.

You Never Know The Moment When
This Information May Prove Of Infinite Value.

It is worth considerable to any citizen of Barre to know how to be cured of painful, annoying and itching piles. Know then that Doan's Ointment is a positive remedy for all itches of the skin, for piles, eczema, etc. One application relieves and soothes. Read this testimony of its merit:

Thomas Brady of the firm of Segal & Brady, residence 51 Summer Street, says: "I had an occasion to use Doan's Ointment in the winter of 1897 and I went to E. A. Drown's drug store for a box. It stopped eczema on my hands, which was very painful. Its usefulness did not stay there. Mrs. Brady had a sore on her arm and a few applications soon soothed the irritated parts so that they ceased to annoy her. Since then I have recommended Doan's Ointment to many, thoroughly believing that it acts as represented, for during the five years which have elapsed since I first used it, it has not been necessary to resort to even a single application."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Reformists are hunting a "cure" for divorcees. We know of no cure, but a good preventive might be discovered in raising boys and girls with less temper, higher ideals and aspirations that look beyond having "a good time."—Wilmington (N. C.) Star.
